

Dr. Coleman Goes To Big Church In Fort Worth

The Rev. W. H. Coleman, for the past two years pastor of St. John's Methodist church, Sunday received a telegram from Bishop Ainsworth from the Central Texas conference, notifying him that his appointment as pastor of the Central Methodist church at Fort Worth, Texas, would be read out at the close of the conference Monday morning.

The Central church at Fort Worth is one of the big Texas churches. It is one of the prominent churches of Fort Worth. It has a membership of more than 1,000, and is recognized as an institution of exceptional activity, taking a leading part in various social as well as religious activities.

Dr. Coleman was transferred to the Central Texas conference at his request. He came to Memphis two years ago from the First church in New Orleans, and has greatly enlarged the membership of St. John's. Under his leadership the church has responded to all demands and met its obligations in splendid fashion.

Officials Search For Body Of Woman Missing Four Years

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—William B. Whitney, for the body of whose second wife the authorities have been searching on his farm at Langdon, N. H., was brought here early today by Sheriff Charles Hewitt, of Richmond, Maine. Whitney was arrested at Richmond last night on a charge of forging a check of the town of Langdon, on which charge he was indicted last week. Sheriff Hewitt intended to take his prisoner to Langdon today.

Whitney disappeared from Langdon Oct. 30, went to Richmond and bought a farm about five miles from the center of the town.

Last Tuesday, under the name of Wm. B. Clark, he married Mrs. Agnes Clark, a widow, of Charlestown, N. H. His wife and her 13-year-old son, Gordon Clark, were with him when he was brought here today.

Whitney had lived eight years at Langdon. After he left the town John Whitney, his 15-year-old son by his first marriage, is alleged to have said he saw his father strike down his stepmother in their home four years ago and later bury her body in a well.

Excavation of the well, which had been filled with rock and debris, was begun Friday and the search since has been extended to other parts of the farm.

Whitney last night declared that at the time of her disappearance four years ago, his second wife had started for the West to visit relatives.

CHILDS CUTS PRICES.

D. E. Fox, local manager for the Childs' restaurant, has announced that certain articles of food served in the restaurant are to be reduced from 11 to 28 per cent, the cut to become effective Nov. 22. The cuts apply principally to meats and sea foods.

Managers for other chain restaurants state that no order for a reduction in prices has reached them, but that they are expecting such an order at any time.

GASOLINE PRICE DROPS ONE CENT

Retail gasoline prices dropped one cent per gallon Monday at the filling stations of the Standard Oil company and the Colyar Reese & Co., Inc., making the present price 20 cents per gallon. Other filling stations continued to sell gasoline at the prices prevailing last week.

The Standard Oil company's reduction was effective throughout Tennessee, Louisiana and Arkansas. The reduction was made, it was said, as an aid to the restoration of what was properly considered normal prices.

"Up to date there has been no lowering of costs for crude oil prices nor recessions in the demand for gasoline," it was asserted in the announcement made by the Standard Oil company of Louisiana. The company, however, stated that it believed the movement toward a restoration of normal prices should be aided by the oil industry.

The Standard Oil company of New Jersey also announced a reduction of one cent per gallon on gasoline.

Gas Consumption Must Be Reduced

F. S. Elgin and J. F. Hamler, receivers for the Memphis Gas and Electric company, have issued a statement warning the public that unless all consumers reduce their consumption of gas, the plant may be unable to supply the demand during the winter months and the entire city be thrown out of gas as a result.

The warning applies to every consumer of gas in the city. It is pointed out that if each consumer of gas in the city will reduce the consumption of gas by 50 feet per day, the plant will be relieved of supplying a total of 1,000,000 feet per day.

On the other hand, an increase of 50 feet per day to each customer will entail the production of an additional 1,000,000 feet, which will cause the plant to fail, it is said.

Kate Adams May Go To Pittsburgh

There is grave danger that the steamer Kate Adams may leave the Memphis port, long her home, for work in the excursion trade on the upper Ohio river. Parties in Pittsburgh are reported to be trying to buy the boat, and unless Memphis business interests have a sudden awakening and take the boat over to run in the local trade, it is probable the Pittsburgh deal will be consummated.

The campaign recently conducted by Milton H. Hunt and associates to sell stock in the Kate Adams failed to generate the usual amount of enthusiasm in such projects, despite the fact that the retention of the boat in the local trade pointed a way to an eventual reduction of freight rates.

UNITARIANS RAISE EDUCATIONAL FUND

The congregation of the local Unitarian church has oversubscribed its quota in the $3,000,000 campaign organized by the Unitarian Laymen's league to help America become a truly religious nation.

The campaign was scheduled for a ten-day period, following Armistice day. Memphis' quota was $500, and indications are that contributions for at least double this amount will be made.

"There are 65,000,000 Americans who are not affiliated with any church," it is asserted. "An irre-
